

Boeing C-17 Program

www.boeing.com

Mission Statement

Boeing believes that climate change is a serious environmental challenge that requires credible action. Recognizing this, we are committed to making our products, services, and operations ever more environmentally progressive. At Boeing, we are focused on creating cleaner, more efficient flight. Today's commercial airplanes produce 70 percent less carbon dioxide than jetliners that flew during the 1960s. Boeing is the world's leading aerospace company and largest manufacturer of commercial jetliners and military aircraft combined.

What makes the Boeing C-17 Program a Recognized Green Business

The Boeing C-17 Program demonstrates green business practices in all of the six areas required in the Long Beach Green Business Recognition program.

- Implementation of Single stream recycling
- Achieving a Zero waste reduction by November 1st 2012
- Installation of composting bins and cardboard baler
- Implementing paperless contracts and the Part Structure Navigator computer program in order to decrease paper waste

- Achieving a 10% reduction of energy in one year under the U.S. EPA's Energy Star Energy Star Challenge for Industry program
- Implementation of plant-wide ECMS lighting, motion sensors and controls, leading up to 73% overall savings of energy
- Dedication to green business practices and following LEED standards

- Installation of drought tolerant plants at select locations
- Participated in a water audit from Long Beach Water Department
- Follows the city's water prohibition

- Use paper with at least 30% post-consumer waste.
- Purchase products from local, green vendors
- Purchasing sustainable products, including High Sierra Green Seal approved cleaning products

- Implementation of FedEx & UPS Point of Use system to reduce the amount of transportation
- Commitment to reduce CO2 emission by implementing a Commuter pre-tax benefit account for employees
- Use of CNG alternative vehicles

- Commitment to sustainability by establishing a Green Team
- Participation in local events and community donations
- Establishing a weekly environmental focus to employees and by requiring staff to enroll in environmental ISO 14001 training class

SUSTAINABLE
LONG BEACH

HISTORICPAST

INNOVATIVEPRESENT

SUSTAINABLEFUTURE